PREFACE

Events of this and recent years (International Women's Year, the Equal Rights Amendment, the Women's Liberation Movement) have served to focus the world's attention on the accomplishments and capabilities of women. The Air Force has long recognized their abilities and recorded them in documents held by the Albert F. Simpson Historical Research Center.

The following annotated bibliography is composed of selected references from Center holdings which deal with women in the armed forces. The bibliography is arranged sectionally by type of reference (book, document, etc.). It is also listed chronologically from earliest to current information within each section. A brief description accompanies each reference as a further aid to the researcher.

Researchers are encouraged to use these documents and other resources of the Center. All references listed are unclassified and accessible to any researcher. Further information regarding the Center and its holdings may be obtained by writing to: AFSHRC/HOA, Maxwell AFB AL 36112.
